Blank lined paper.

Blank lined paper.

This image shows a blank sheet of cream-colored paper with two vertical blue lines running down its length. The paper appears to be part of a notebook or a document template.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf from an old book. A single, vertical blue line runs down the center of the page, possibly indicating a fold or a binding edge. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and faint smudges, characteristic of old paper. There is no text or other markings on the page.
